

2015 Big Game Challenge & Perfect Game Payouts

(All games are 30 shoes)

Big Game Challenge:

For an HP Pro Tour Tournament game to qualify for the Big Game Challenge Payouts, it must...

- 1) be pitched during a qualifying tournament round (in most cases, this is Round One).
- 2) be pitched by a Pro Player (The Big Game Challenge is only for Pro Divisions)
- 3) exceed 12 ringers
- 4) also exceed the Pro Player's entering NatStat ringer percentage

Big Game Payout chart:

Ringers	Payout	Notes: All six 2015 tournament sites are participating in the Big Game Challenge. Round One in all tournaments is the designated Big Game round. Big Game winnings will accumulate all season long and players will be paid via check in one lump sum, once the final 2015 tournament is completed and all season records are checked and verified for accuracy. Frequently, updated summary reports showing Big Game results per tournament and season totals per player will be posted online alongside tournament results at www.hpprotour.info . Players are expected to monitor their own results and immediately report any possible discrepancies via email to ron.taylor@hpprotour.com , ASAP.

Perfect Games (30 ringers):

Qualifying perfect games can be pitched by any player in any round of any HP Pro Tour Tournament. The first perfect game of the season pitched in any division will be awarded a $300.00 bonus. All subsequent perfect games in that season will be awarded a $150.00 bonus. In the event of a tie for the $300 bonus, where multiple players pitch perfect games in the same game of the same round, each of the tied players will receive the $300.00 bonus. In the event there are no perfect games in a season, the $300.00 bonus will be divided up equally amongst all games of 27 ringers and up.

2015 HP Pro Tour Season Schedule:

Dates	Location
March 27-29	Palm Coast, FL
April 25-26	Newberry, SC
June 13-14	Clarksville, TN
August 8-9	Chalybeate, KY
